The California Workforce Development Board (CWDB) is pleased to announce the Helping Justice-Involved Reenter Employment (HIRE) initiative, a new funding opportunity for community-based organizations (CBOs) and other non-profit organizations to provide employment services to justice-involved individuals. Approximately $50,000,000 will be available to qualified grantees. The initiative's objectives are to:

- Increase employment opportunities and job mobility for formerly incarcerated and justice-involved individuals.
- Provide training, re-skilling and upskilling, and supportive services to justice-involved individuals to improve employment opportunities and job mobility.
