

An Initiative of the California Workforce Development Board

The Inland Empire Prosperity Collaborative is a consortium of 12 California community colleges and three not-for-credit training providers throughout the Inland Empire/Desert regions that is supporting 37 robust workforce development programs across four emerging industry sectors: Healthcare, Logistics, Water Treatment, and Utility Line Clearance/Arborist. The consortium members, who are also part of the Inland Empire Desert Regional Consortium (IEDRC), will support a wide range of programs with sustainability incorporated and designed to prepare workers to meet regional labor market needs in high-demand industries that provide high-quality jobs.

This collaborative will pilot a new model for the H RTP by deploying an economic and client resilient workforce collective that is led by Inland California’s Community College System—not just with community colleges as partners, but jointly at the forefront of developing programming and serving participants. Advisory committees will be open to employers, union representatives, and other stakeholders to inform workforce development strategies and development of new programs.
